Client Overview

Client: Mark Rodriguez

Location: San Antonio, Texas

Vehicle: 2013 Honda CR-V (4th Generation, AWD, 2.4L I4)

Mileage: 142,000 miles

Primary Use: Daily commuting and weekend family travel

Mark, a dad of two, counts on his Honda CR-V to get through daily life. It has been a solid, comfortable ride for the family until major drivetrain problems showed up.

Challenges Faced By Mark

Mark began noticing significant transmission problems which progressively worsened over a few weeks:

- ◆ Shuddering during acceleration
- ◆ Delayed gear engagement, especially from Park to Drive
- ◆ Slipping between 2nd and 3rd gears
- ◆ Warning lights and a transmission fault code

He took the car to a Honda-certified shop, and they told him the automatic transmission was failing on the inside. It needed to be replaced completely.

Honda Dealership Replacement Quote $4,800+:

Mark started searching for more affordable and reliable solutions without compromising on quality or long-term dependability.

Solution Provided By Used Transmission For Sale

After finding Used Transmission for Sale online, Mark reached out for guidance. Our support team walked him through the available options and located a low-mileage used OEM transmission from a 2014 Honda CR-V with only 63,000 miles:
